EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 22

EASTERN STATES

Charles F Adams' View of the Situation

NEW YORK June 21—The Herald's special from Geneva in an interview to-day with Charles Francis Adams reports Mr Adams as having said I adhere to the principles laid before the Cincinnati Convention but would accept a Baltimore nomination if the platform was a good one but I will never be a wire pulled nigger I am deeply concerned for State Rights

Free Traders Meeting

NEW YORK June 21—The Convention called by Judge Stallo at the Fifth Avenue Hotel was secret; no reporters being admitted It has transpired, however that ex Governor Cox spoke endeavoring to harmonize on Greeley Atkinson urged the nomination of Adams After a long debate the question of nominating a ticket was decided in the affirmative when Cox publicly withdrew from the Conference. A platform was adopted denouncing Greeley and the Cincinnati platform The Convention pledges the Free Traders to support their own policy under all circumstances

Injunction Against the H M S Co

Judge Barrett yesterday denied the application for the injunction against the Pacific Mail Steamship Company This disposes of all injunctions against the company, except those pending in Brooklyn

Boston Jubilee.

BOSTON June 20—The audience in the Coliseum this afternoon fully equalled in numbers and enthusiasm that of yesterday The day was dedicated to the Austrian Kaiser An overture was dedicated to the Emperor Francis Joseph and was performed by the orchestra, and created considerable enthusiasm

Concerning Strikes

NEW YORK June 21—The strikes are dying out The threatened demonstration at Steinway's factory this morning did not occur

PORT JERVIS (N Y) June 21—The attempt of the emissaries of the Eight Hour League at New York to get up a strike in the Susquehanna shops where thousands of men are employed has utterly failed

BOSTON June 21—The Mayor has vetoed the order of the City Council giving the Public Library on Sundays the city solicitors being of opinion that the order conflicts with State enactments

Miscellaneous

WHEELING June 21—The Island Creek Works on the Island opposite the city were entirely destroyed by fire to night Loss $50,000

NEW YORK June 21—The Japanese Government is having five twenty bonds and greenbacks engraved, and monthly shipments are being made to Japan About a million has been already sent

There is absolutely no foundation for the report of Nellie Grant being engaged to marry a Scotch Lord

WASHINGTON CITY

The Washington Treaty

WASHINGTON June 21—From the latest reliable information received here there is no reason to believe that the supplemental articles to the Treaty of Washington, on quite a new basis, submitted by Granville are now the subject of negotiation between the British and American Governments On the contrary, there is some truth in the allegation made in some quarters in Geneva that at the next meeting of the Arbitrators the announcement will be made that the question of indirect damages is settled There is the best reason for believing that at their brief session on the 15th the Arbitrators decided that such claims could not properly come before them and must therefore be excluded Of course the British Government must be satisfied with the decision of the Arbitrators in excluding the consideration of indirect claims and it is thought here that in consequence of this action of the Tribunal the additional article to the treaty is rendered unnecessary and accordingly will be altogether withdrawn from the controversy

WEST INDIES

Executions—Arms Landed in Cuba.

HAVANA June 15—General Lucule and Capt Arteaga were executed on the 15th at Port au Prince

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN]

CANADA

A Frightful Railroad Accident—Sixty Lives Lost

MONTREAL June 22—An accident occurred this morning on the Grand Trunk Railroad The axle of the engine of a train going from Toronto to Montreal was broken and the passengers were pitched on each other So far none of the passengers are dead Over sixty were badly injured The engineer was killed and the fireman badly wounded The sufferers are principally second class passengers

BELLEVILLE Canada June 22—The night express train went down past this place at 2 20 this morning full of passengers among whom were many ministers of the English Church, on their way homeward from the Synod at Toronto About eleven miles below Belleville station the engine jumped off the track, carrying death and fearful torture to scores of passengers in the forward cars The baggage car remained on the track and telescoped the smoking car and second class passenger car, leaving the passengers on top of the engine and exposed to the escaping steam from the boiler The poor creatures were hopelessly penned for some time, breathing vapors of death and suffering agony from immersion in a boiling cauldron of superheated water O M Rody an eye witness says that immediately after the disaster he went to the second class car, it and the smoking car telescoped a locomotive, the steam from which was issuing around so densely that he could see nothing One after another of the scalded victims were drawing from openings Crowbars were immediately put into requisition by the passengers of the first class cars, all of whom escaped injury, and openings were made The passengers were extricated with the utmost difficulty, timbers having broken in half The wounded were carried to the roadside where they lay for nearly three hours in the most fearful agony Dr Burdett, of Belleville, arrived at this time and had them removed to a Pullman car On their arrival here, everything was promptly done to allay their suffering Medical men in town were summoned mattresses procured and a large freight shed turned into a temporary hospital, where the patients received every possible attention The medical men and their assistants are unremitting in their attention Ministers of the Gospel are with each other in the zealous administration of their sacred office The sight baffles description, and the cries of the sufferers rent the ears of lookers on, who made every possible effort to grant the requests for water The terrible injuries were fearful to witness while prayers and cries of the victims appealing desolation were heard After the injured arrived here death brought some of them happy relief from their terrible agonies Those least injured was seen about swathed in bandages and conversed freely about the fearful occurrence The express and baggage cars were forced past the broken engine without injuring the express messenger or baggage man, but the smoking car telescoped the second class car The latter going forward knocked the safety valve off the boiler and remained on top of the engine, allowing the steam to fill the second class car, which was crowded with passengers many of them unbeknown en route for Quebec The second first class and Pullman cars were comparatively uninjured and the passengers were transshipped and went east this forenoon Sixty five men and women were fearfully scalded and otherwise injured Six died on the spot The bodies were brought to Belleville Four more died, and others are dying every hour Not more than one third of the injured will live John Hibbert, engineer, was instantly killed and it is found that the fireman is badly injured One leg had to be amputated H M Neilson conductor, and other train hands escaped uninjured The wounded and dying are lying on stretchers or mattresses on the floor of the shed some of them so disfigured as to be hardly recognizable Five of the wounded who were able to walk left by the express train for Toronto

EVENING—Since the report this afternoon 12 more of the injured by the railroad disaster have died making 23 dead now Others are dying The physicians say that not more than six or seven of the 65 injured persons will live The suffering and appearance of the wounded is really frightful

EASTERN STATES

New Law Regulating Practice in United States Courts

Congress has therefore recently adjourned passed [illegible] important changes respecting [illegible] in the United States District Courts These changes will be found to run the pleadings [illegible] some [illegible] them

Heretofore the District Judge has had power to sit with the Circuit Judge which he did or in the absence of the [illegible] Court for him and while sitting with the Circuit Judge has had the same power with him Under the act just passed the District Judge may sit on the Circuit Bench with the presiding Justice of that Court or with the Justice of the Supreme Court allotted to his District but he is powerless to interfere with the opinion of judgments of the presiding Judge in regard to any pending controversy The language of the new law is that the opinion of the presiding Justice shall prevail and be considered as the opinion of the Court

The new act also contains provisions in regard to the pleadings practice and modes of proceeding in both the District and Circuit Courts of the United States these are by the fifth section required to be in conformity with the pleadings, practice and modes of proceeding in the courts of record of the States where the United States Courts may respectively be held The time for taking a writ of error on appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States is limited to two years instead of five as heretofore and in appealing from the District to the Circuit Court the limit is made one year instead of two as now

The eighth section relates to criminal practice It provides that indictments shall not be held insufficient nor judgments thereon affected, by reason of any defect or imperfection in matter of form only, which shall not tend to the prejudice of the defendant Heretofore many proceedings in criminal cases have been subject to the rigid provisions of the common law, and the misspelling of a name was sufficient ground for a motion to quash an indictment This new act places indictments in the District Court nearly on the same footing with those in our State Courts under the penal code, and will be a very great relief to United States Judges and Prosecuting Attorneys

By the thirteenth section it is provided that service of process on absent or non-resident defendants may be made by publication, when the action is brought to enforce a lien against the personal or real property situated within the jurisdiction of the Court The fourteenth section provides for the relief of poor convicts sentenced to imprisonment and to pay a fine, or fine and costs The convict, after having been in prison thirty days solely for the non-payment of the fine or fine and costs, may apply to any United States Commissioner of the district setting forth his inability to pay, and if the Commissioner upon a hearing, shall find the convict unable to pay, he shall thereupon be discharged

The several remedies by attachment and garnishment in force in the different States are by the act made applicable to the Federal Courts

Divided Minds

The extreme embarrassment of the "straight out" Democracy of Oregon at the prospect of Greeley's nomination at Baltimore is well illustrated by the following paragraph, which we take from the Eugene Guard

We are continually being asked who we shall support for the Presidency in case Greeley is accepted by the Baltimore Convention This is a hard question to answer. We have great hope that a genuine Democrat will be nominated at Baltimore. If not, however, we shall probably divide our mind between Greeley Grant and the Devil. Neither one has any per centage for the other. Our readers can pay their coin and take their choice

Such are some of the torments that now afflict the Democratic mind We have it from first rate authority that, in case Greeley be accepted at Baltimore, Messrs Lane, Helm and Gates, candidates on the Democratic Electoral ticket in this State, will withdraw and refuse to support Chappaqua It will be necessary to "reconstruct" the Electoral ticket, if anybody can be found to accept places on it. And then Grant and Wilson will carry Oregon by two thousand five hundred majority.

A letter from a correspondent with the working parties on the Northern Pacific Railroad, Eastern Division, states that the managers of that enterprise have adopted the friendly and peaceable policy in dealing with the Indian tribes along the route The scream of the locomotive excites the Indian, and when he hears it he is ready to respond with the war whoop To overcome the natural hostility of the natives to the railroad the managers are trying to conciliate them by giving them work, trading with them, purchasing horses, cattle, food, etc, or anything useful that they may bring They are encouraged to settle upon farms, and taught that while the locomotive may frighten off the game, yet it will bring them many comforts which they do not now have, and that their risks of starving will be much less than heretofore This mode of dealing with the Indians is sound policy

The Philadelphia Press of the 7th inst had this paragraph on the Oregon election "Grant's star led to victory in war and points to triumph in peace His friends carried New Hampshire and Connecticut in the midst of the clamors of his enemies and the news of the redemption of Oregon from Democratic misrule came while the Convention was registering the decree of the people in favor of his re-election Oregon was lost to us till Grant came with an honest character and policy to restore it to its natural friends the Republicans

Who of this generation could have supposed a year ago that he would live to see the New York Tribune become the leading Democratic organ of the United States its founder the Democratic candidate for President, and all the Democratic journals and leaders of the old time thrust into the background? Yet this is just the situation now

It is stated that the editor of the Herald is to deliver an address at Salem this week on the Struggles and Trials of Civilization He can easily show that the greatest struggles and trials which civilization has encountered in America were caused by the devotion of the Democratic party to secession doctrines and human slavery

Where is Jasper Johnson? Is he wandering about like another Odysseus unable to find the way home? Is a Calypso anywhere detaining him in her vaulted grotto The Liberal mind grows anxious. Jasper should have returned from Cincinnati long ago

American Extravagance

On this subject the Sacramento Union has a suggestive article showing that our tourists spend in Europe each year far more money than we gain by immigration Foreign immigration that paper observes is usually counted on as good for the average of $100 per head in specie We shall probably this year obtain 300,000 foreign immigrants who will bring into the country $1 000 000 But in that gain we shall send about 30 000 rich pleasure seekers to Europe who will take an expenditure of $1 00 each making an aggregate of $4 000 000 or $1 000 000 more than the 30 000 foreign immigrants will bring from Europe to the United States A balance of trade of at least $100 000 000 will be in favor of Europe and against the United States this year It thus appears that we shall probably have to pay the Old World this year nearly $1 00 000 000 in gold or in stocks as good as gold For turn we take their fine woolens silk cottons shoddies and see their sights from Italy to St Petersburg paying as much as would pay half the interest on our public debt for the privilege Our mines have never yielded so largely of the precious metals as they do now but we shall need more than they produce to meet the liabilities created by the national extravagance

The Union deems the chief cause of the great annual rush of Americans to Europe to be the high charges of our own hotels and railways It costs less to make a tour of Europe from any part of our Eastern States, than to visit the Pacific coast

CITY.

MADE HIS ESCAPE.—A gentleman from Vancouver has furnished us the following facts concerning the escape of Johnny Daugherty from the guard house at that place on last Friday morning. Some months ago Daugherty deserted from the post at Vancouver. After wandering around for some time he came to this city. He was soon arrested for desertion taken back and placed in the guard house awaiting trial. He effected an escape on the morning in question during the temporary absence of the guard who had gone to his breakfast. The house in which he was confined had one small window—about 12x10 inches—across which three small iron bars crossed vertically. While the guard was away Daugherty managed either by the aid of a small saw or file to cut the bars at the lower end where they entered the wood. This accomplished he wrenched them from their positions and by main strength bent them upward and outward. By some means the precise character of which puzzled the most philosophic he managed to crawl through the small aperture and effected his escape to the ground. It was quite early in the morning, and, feeling confident that he would not be discovered, Daugherty climbed in at another window which opened into an adjoining building. He took from a table a pistol and some other articles, and then made his escape to the woods. On a subsequent examination of the premises of the guard house it was discovered that Daugherty had in like manner cut the bars which secured a much larger window which opened from a long hall out on the ground. The bars of iron how ever, had proved too stiff for his strength and —fully resisted his attempts to move them. It is a matter of much wonder and comment how a man could squeeze himself through so small a hole, and it has been remarked frequently since the escape, that Daugherty must have slipped half himself through at a time, or starved for the last month to reduce himself to a rail like proportion.

CONGREGATIONAL ASSOCIATION.—This association having been in session in this city for several days has adjourned. Much business was transacted tending to advance the interests and strengthen the cause of the church in the entire section of the country over which the association has jurisdiction. Some important resolutions in regard to the subject of education and the work of the University were pointedly and carefully discussed, and adopted in the afternoon session on Sunday. Rev Mr Huntington, of Olympia, was ordained as a minister of the church. The association, before its adjournment passed resolutions of thanks to the various steamboat companies, the railroads the press and citizens of Portland for favors shown. The closing sermon was preached before the association at the First Congregational Church last Sunday evening by Rev Mr. Tenny of Astoria. The utmost harmony and good feeling prevailed throughout the entire proceedings, and the ministers will repair to their several fields of labor with fresh courage and renewed zeal to prosecute their work.

RUN OVER.—From the engineer of the Rescue we learn that a man, whose name is not known was run over at Kalama on last Saturday morning. It appears that the train was in motion, and the man attempted to step on board. His hand and foot slipped at the same moment, and he fell in between the cars. A portion of the train passed over one hip, along the center of his body and across his shoulder. Portions of his body were literally crushed to jelly. The train was stopped as soon as possible and the remains of the unfortunate man were removed. Nothing further is known of the sad occurrence.

SUGGESTION.—A correspondent suggests that a rowing match be made, to take place in front of the city on the afternoon of the 4th of July. This would prove an attractive feature in the day's celebration, and certainly be a means to secure an influx of visitors to the city. Here is a chance offered to the Neptune Rowing Club to bring out their muscular members on the water and it is to be hoped they will give the matter their immediate attention. Let us have a contest on the Wallamet by all means on that day, and at the same time a sail boat match would assist in making the sport all the more attractive.

INSANE ASYLUM.—The following is a synopsis of the report of the Visiting Physician to the State Insane Asylum for the quarter ending May 31st. At the commencement of the quarter there were in the Asylum—males, 125, females, 40 Total, 165. Admitted during the quarter—males, 7; females, 7. Total, 14. Discharged during the same period—males, 12 females, 4 Total, 16 Died, 3 Number remaining in the Asylum, May 31st, 160—being a decrease of 5 over the previous quarter.

RACES.—The following is the result of the trotting races held over the Riverside track on Saturday afternoon. Mile heats, best three in five purse, $100. J J Welsh names ch g High Leader, 1 1 1 B B Acker names b g American Boy, 2 2 2 L B Lindsey names b g Carl Bosco, 3 3 3 Time—3 03¼ 3 04, 2 54½.

THIEVES.—Some person broke into the house of Milton Cresswell, near Brooklyn mills, East Portland, during his absence at work in the Machine Shops, on Saturday, and stole a suit of clothes, white shirt pair of blankets pair of boots, a derringer pistol, and other valuable articles, making a clean sweep of the place.

FOR ASTORIA.—The steamer E. K. Cook came down yesterday from Oregon City. She started at a late hour last evening down the river to Astoria, having on board an excursion party. The party will probably remain some days at Astoria and Clatsop and occupy the time in fishing and disporting in some of Neptune's domains.

TROOPS MOVING.—A detachment of the 21st Regiment of Infantry is expected to arrive at Vancouver on the next steamer, to take the place of the 23d, ordered to Arizona. The band which belongs to the detachment is expected to arrive about the first of the month.

FIRE EN.—The Fire Department at Vancouver purpose to bring over about 35 men to parade on the Fourth. Should the splendid military band belonging to the 21st Infantry arrive from San Francisco in time it will accompany the delegation.

POSTAL NEWS.—Running time on mail route No 14,773, (Bradley & Barlow contractors has been reduced to three days from Portland, Oregon, to Tehama California—April 1st to November 30, and 5 days from December 1st to March 31.

SHIPPING EGGS.—We observed at W F & Co's office two boxes of the celebrated Pahmin fowl eggs. The eggs came from San Francisco and are on the way to Canyon City. They are to be used for hatching purposes.

NEW PASTOR.—Rev E A Medberry the new minister of the First Baptist Church of this city occupied the pulpit both morning and evening yesterday. A very large fashionable and intelligent audience was present.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS.—Capt Whyte of the British ship Forward will accept our thanks for files of late Hongkong papers and also memoranda of ship from time of sailing.

OFFICIATED.—Rev Thos Condon of the Dalles filled the pulpit at the Unitarian Chapel yesterday morning, and Rev P S Knight of Salem in the evening.

Y. M. C. A.—There will be a meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association at their rooms this evening. Messrs Blake and Moore of Boston, will be present and address the meeting.

PERSONAL.—Major Matthew P. Berry late Indian Agent at Fort Hall arrived in this city on Saturday evening in the steamer Gussie.

PASSENGERS.—The steamer Gussie brought to this port 146 passengers from San Francisco.

OUR TAILORS.—With such workmen as any one of merchant tailor in this city can boast of, there is no excuse for them not excelling in the style of fit and workmanship at which gentlemen can be now thoroughly dressed at that establishment. Nelson & Wakefield Proprietors. They have competent assistants who will do just as good work as can be done anywhere, and furnish goods at as reasonable rates as the best. Go to this house.

IT IS PRETTY WELL settled that Judge Watson has been elected to Congress. In the full flow of attention everybody will be taken up with the National Election. Not withstanding the huge meeting events of the kind, Ceo. Q. Williams will grant liberal trade at their clothing house. The motto of his is that they offer such liberal inducements to those who favor them with a call.

HORTICULTURAL FAIR

THIRD DAY.

The second annual Horticultural and Floral Fair which was commenced in this city on last Thursday under the auspices of the society was brought to a successful termination on Saturday evening. Most of the day on Thursday was devoted to preparing seats and tables arranging and receiving flowers fruits, etc. On Friday the attendance was quite fair but was not as large as the merits of the exhibition deserved. The display of flowers and fruits was most excellent and was calculated in respect to choice variation and beauty to reflect credit on any State—especially one as young as Oregon. In our issue of Saturday we published a list of the various kinds of pomological and floral specimens on exhibition on the names of the persons and also the different premiums awarded. Although the premiums were awarded on Friday a few additions were made on Saturday to the already choice selections displayed.

A very neat picture made from the natural leaves of various kinds of forest trees was exhibited by Mrs Edward Stansborough. It was a most elegant and superb specimen of workmanship and on the account of its unrivaled beauty won a premium.

A beautiful moose harp placed in a frame and covered with glass, was exhibited by Mrs I D West.

A stalk out from a cherry tree one foot in length on which hung 200 luscious cherries—literally a mass—was displayed by W I Watson of Mt Hood, W T.

Mr Charles Burchardt, of this city, sent to the Rink for exhibition a plate on which was placed 300 cherries the whole weighing four pounds and a half.

Various other rare plants and flowers were added by florists, but time and space preclude their detail now.

Some very handsome sea mosses were on exhibition by Mr H McDonald, of this city, who for several months past, has been stationed on Tatoosh Island near Cape Flattery weather and engaged with several others in the construction of a steam fog whistle. Among these we observed fourteen different species of sea mosses and twenty two kinds of shells which Mr McDonald had collected during leisure hours.

MISCELLANEOUS

A meeting was held by the members of the Society in the course of the afternoon on Saturday for the transaction of business. Among other business it was determined to hold an adjourned meeting of the society at the office of Col A P Dennison, on next Saturday at 1 o'clock P M.

CONCLUSION

Agreeable to announcement, Cordo's brass band was in attendance at the Rink on Saturday evening and discoursed some very sweet music to the assembled throng of ladies and gentlemen. During the evening a number of amateur performers on the piano are stated in contributing to the pleasure and variety of the occasion.

About 9 o'clock, A B Richardson commenced to auction off the most choice and rare plants, fruits, etc. Some lively and animated bidding followed. We regret to say that the plants were sold far below their real value, in some instances almost given away.

By the sale, Mr L Kiernan, of East Portland, realized the sum of $68 25, and Mrs N H Lane, $23 65.

Doubts were entertained at the earlier stage of the Fair, by the members, that it would prove a financial failure. Throughout its progress the attendance was not equal to the intrinsic merits of the exhibition. However, we feel confident in saying that the attendance was much in advance of what it was last year and the gross receipts were proportionately greater. At the first exhibition the enterprise proved a losing affair, and the loss was made up among the members of the Society. It was then a purely experimental venture. Now the project has assumed a more definite and tangible form, the public taste has been cultivated on the subject, and attention has been directed into a proper channel to insure success to future efforts on the part of the members.

From the present surroundings we think the Society has much to draw favorable assurances from. The past display—just closed—of fruits and flowers, specimens of taste and workmanship and collections from the rare and curious in the great store-house of Nature was better patronized and has been much superior to the former one. The members of this young Society have been unceasing and indefatigable in their labors and we hope that at the Third Annual Horticultural Fair their efforts may meet with a more hearty sympathy and co operation on the part of our citizens, and be crowned with that success to which its object entitles it. For the credit of our young and growing State and enterprising city, let not this project be abandoned in its incipiency, on the very threshold of its success.

AMUSEMENTS

The Japs are on their Southern course—California wards.

The Nathan Troupe arrived in New York city early this month.

Fostello, the female impersonator, with the Purdy, Vincent and Scott Minstrels while here, is now with Col Wagner's Minstrels, which are now playing in the Eastern States.

The Matthews Family a party of gymnastic and pantomime artists, and Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, both drawing large audiences in San Francisco at the present time, would undoubtedly prove paying cards to any enterprising person who would engage them to appear in this city.

General and Mrs Tom Thumb, Commodore Nutt and Miss Minnie Warren, who are all known to this public proposed at last accounts to return to America at an early date, and were exhibiting, prior to a final farewell to England, at the Palais Royal, Regent street. The General was said to have grown somewhat portly, and looked quite a respectable middle aged gentleman in miniature. The Commodore, whose figure had not developed into aldermanic proportions, was very active, and sustains the chief part of the comic business.

Chas Vivian, who arrived in this city by the last steamer will make his first appearance at Oro Fino Theater this evening. For the first time in the city will be rendered the beautiful comedy of Noemie or Foster Sisters concluding with the Shoemaker. Between the two pieces the great Vivian will appear in a number of his unrivalled specialties. This immitable song and character man created a great sensation in San Francisco among the theater goers of that city and his debut here will no doubt be greeted with continued crowded houses, and his songs listened to by admiring and enthusiastic audiences. He is said to be a host in his peculiar line. We shall expect to see Oro Fino Theater crowded to its capacity this evening.

TREASURE TROVE EXTRAORDINARY

"There are more things in Heaven and earth than are dreamed of in thy philosophy."—Shakspeare.

Horatio's mind may not have reverted to hidden worldly treasure when this remark was made to him but the subject on which we wish to write suggested the reminder and we will make it suffice to introduce our story to our readers not claiming originality for the thought or its application.

Mr B——, one of our most prominent surveyors, connected with one of the railroad companies was recently running a line near the old military road between the towns of Cornelius and Astoria in this State he chanced to make one of his places for an angle upon a pyramidal stone that offered a suitable point of sight for his theodolite in the small rocky glen through which his course lay. The stone itself, of the shape described was scarcely less prominent than others that lay loosely scattered about the place, only for its peculiar formation which made it the selected object. It was covered with lichen and with the exception of the face which lay toward a brook that ran near by was grown about with the undergrowth peculiar to the forests of Oregon. As the surveyor and his three assistants were gathered about the rock indulging in a short rest one of their number leaned his back against it and raised one foot, placing the sole of the boot a few inches perhaps from the ground against the stone to get a position of ease. Immediately as he did the moss gave way under the pressure and his foot came to the ground bearing the rock. Glancing downward to secure another foothold his eye fell upon a queer looking incision in the smooth rock that looked much like the mark of a chisel. He looked again and became convinced that the mark was too deeply cut and too regular to have been the work of nature. Prompted by the curiosity that holds to it where little is seen to see more of possible he called the attention of the others to his discovery, and they anxious for a further investigation used a small hand axe that was in the party to clear more of the moss away and to their unbounded astonishment revealed the time worn characters

NICE 82.

Nonplussed by the cabalistic disclosure there were more than ever at a loss what to do. There left no doubt in their minds was evidently the work of human hands but for what purpose it might what exact time were hidden by certain changes until the fact of many accidentally gave it light did not allow. The Roman characters employed undoubtedly stamped it as the work of Europeans and as such they bethought themselves of a key to the mystery. Being surveyors the idea that naturally suggested itself was one connected with their profession and to their joy the solution seemed plain enough.

North 1 chain, East 2 Perches. Straightway they brought their instruments into use and measuring off the distances in the required directions and cleaning away with immense labor the fallen timber and undergrowth of the place in order to prosecute their search, they succeeded in finding another stone similar in shape and size to the other buried alike at to the apex in the earth and locality vegetation. After a long task at clearing the face of the stone they came to the figure 0 clearly and deeply cut. Here seemed an end of the trouble. They had evidently read the inscription on the first stone right as finding the second proved but a where it stood them in the face a numeral which though plain in one sense, yet was as unclassical as the signs of the astrologer. The figure 82 it was there. What could it mean. In fact what might it not mean. Seven miles yards rods feet anything. In despair they determined to leave the rock which was the end of their labors with nothing but the hope of rewarding them further labor. At last the happy thought occurred to one what if—

Now a one was to express a hand a shovel was brought into requisition and down they worked. The suspense that attended during the excavation of the few feet of earth can better be appreciated than described. Hope and fear alternately marked the faces of the party as they turn they toiled with the stone. The ring of metal the sudden fall not suddenly brought all to bend and there the person shoveling exposed to their gaze a rusted iron ring attached as the buried effects of the riverside soon disclosed to a decayed wooden box about a foot square. On lifting on the ring it gave way, and they did not raise their supposed treasure to the surface of the earth until it was completely loosed from its bed by the use of the shovel. They found that they had secured a box of wood decayed by time yet held together by several iron hoops, and as was shown by the decayed wood having been beaten off in one or two places lined with copper or other metal. The weight satisfied them they had found a treasure but of what value they were now to ascertain. Breaking the box open there was brought to light gold and silver coin and jewels the bulk being of silver and all amounting about $5 00. The silver coin was of Spanish Mexican and the jewelry was of rich and great value with the exception of a piece with diamond and other stones.

Well pleased with their venture the party made a equal division of the property and came to the city Saturday of the history.

Some money is on exhibition in the windows of one of our prominent brokers on Front street and a gentleman who frequents a First street gem recalls at times a full and rotund form has the diamond sparkling which by the way is worthy of our benevolence. The piece is in the shape of a leaf made of silver after the old Mexican style much tarnished rather blackened by time and contains thirty one diamonds the largest worth about $50. The diamonds are set in a of the most exquisite beauty and brilliancy. He gave $200 for the pin.

An Egyptian curiosity is rife concerning who put the treasure there and when as nothing to solve either question was found on the box.

May not the old Spanish galleon whose skeleton is racked by hostiles on the bay near Astoria and whose ribs suggest the spectre of departed years have had some knowledge of who placed the iron box in the bed in the wilderness of Oregon.

THE HEAVY WEIGHT.—It is always a pleasure to deal with an individual or a firm who is known to be honest and liberal. There are corporations and establishments that endeavor to please their customers. The firm that carries out these principles, and is the most popular and successful in Portland, is that of Fischel & Co, corner of Washington and First streets. The new Cutter they have just received has given universal satisfaction, and they intend to keep it constantly employed. Those who contemplate purchasing anything in their line will find it to their interest to call at this establishment before purchasing elsewhere. They are now selling their goods cheaper than ever.

BUSINESS CHANCE.—Parties wishing to locate in the country and in the city have a rare chance to purchase an interest in a well established business house on First street, Vancouver, W T. The present firm is doing a good business, and the reason for selling out is that the partners have other business to attend to. Call on or address the present firm, Vancouver, W T.

Lost Health Regained

Self neglect lays the foundation of much bodily suffering. As a rule men are more solicitous to repair and preserve their houses work in trade and other perishable property than to repair and preserve themselves. They can be seen walking quite a piece for a work structure to repair but how unconcerned or indifferent it is to see to and be seen to a disease in the human frame. A disease of debility in the human frame is a disease of neglect.

As Mr B——, one of our most prominent surveyors, connected with one of the railroad companies was recently running a line near the old military road between the towns of Cornelius and Astoria in this State he chanced to make one of his places for an angle upon a pyramidal stone that offered a suitable point of sight for his theodolite in the small rocky glen through which his course lay. The stone itself, of the shape described was scarcely less prominent than others that lay loosely scattered about the place, only for its peculiar formation which made it the selected object. It was covered with lichen and with the exception of the face which lay toward a brook that ran near by was grown about with the undergrowth peculiar to the forests of Oregon. As the surveyor and his three assistants were gathered about the rock indulging in a short rest one of their number leaned his back against it and raised one foot, placing the sole of the boot a few inches perhaps from the ground against the stone to get a position of ease. Immediately as he did the moss gave way under the pressure and his foot came to the ground bearing the rock. Glancing downward to secure another foothold his eye fell upon a queer looking incision in the smooth rock that looked much like the mark of a chisel. He looked again and became convinced that the mark was too deeply cut and too regular to have been the work of nature. Prompted by the curiosity that holds to it where little is seen to see more of possible called the attention of the others to his discovery, and they anxious for a further investigation used a small hand axe that was in the party to clear more of the moss away and to their unbounded astonishment revealed the time worn characters

PLANTATION BITTERS!

S. T.--1860--X.

This wonderful vegetable restorative is the sheet-anchor of the feeble and debilitated. As a tonic and cordial for the aged and languid it has no equal among stomachics. As a remedy for the nervous weakness to which women are especially subject, it is superseding every other stimulant. In all climates tropical temperate or frigid it acts as a specific in every species of disorder which undermines the bodily strength and breaks down the animal spirits.

PROSPECTUS.

THE THROUCH LINE!

A RAILROAD JOURNAL, TO BE PUBLISHED weekly in the city of Portland Oregon devoted to the interests of railroads and kindred subjects and especially to the success of the

Portland, Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad

In the interest of the road we have already made one map which is again at great odds our efforts have been crowned with a fair measure of success. It is now a fixed fact recognized by the Government and becoming attractive to men of capital and influence.

With the success of this prospectus we enter upon a second campaign in which the friends of the great work will find it profitable to be united firm and persistent.

We shall early discuss the subject of legitimate and reasonable State aid in the prosecution of the work, and as an endorsement of the importance of this deservedly popular enterprise.

Preparatory to a renewal of our efforts at the next session of Congress we shall fully discuss the national and local importance of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad and through its instrumentality of The Through Line familiarize members of Congress and the American public with the subject in all its bearings. The discussion will cover the whole ground and no fact or matter which may be deemed of importance will be allowed to pass unnoticed.

The successful completion of the railroads embraced in the system of the Pacific Northwest, we shall give our hearty support to all that is fair and just, and especially shall we endeavor to keep alive and make useful that public sentiment in Oregon everywhere manifested in behalf of the Portland Dalles and Salt Lake Railroad.

Our knowledge of the several roads embraced in this system their origin and progress the various laws that have been passed concerning them, and the country through which they pass, will enable us to give from time to time to the American and European readers reliable and important information connected therewith.

Our friends should be especially vigilant in getting subscribers and giving The Through Line a wide circulation. We have made arrangements for its publication and shall employ a competent assistant in the Editorial Department. It will be a twenty column paper and the first number will be issued on or about the 20th of June, inst. Subscription $5 00 per annum.

The Child's Inquiry.

Carl Schurz sat down one evening late
To rest his weary head,
When his little son came into the room,
And looking at him said

"Who's that Horace Greeley, pa,
That people call so wise?
Is he some giant tall enough
To reach into the skies?

"Oh no, my child, about as large
As I or my brother Bruce
Twas not his stature made him great,
Or made him his renown

"But he it is who nobly bade
Jeff. Davis from a cell,
And now we want for President
The man who did so well."

"But, then, pops, was not old Jeff.
A traitor to the State?
You used to rob him down and say
That hanging was his fate.

"And wouldn't Horace Greeley, pa,
If he were President,
Pull off and pardon every rogue
Who was to prison sent?

"Oh, no, my child, Jeff. Davis was
An enemy in war;
But he who bails a common rogue
Is neighbors all abhor."

"Then, pa, if I should steal a horse,
I'd steal a hundred more,
I would be great and get bailed out,
Like Davis did before?

"Oh, no, my child, the Gospel says
That you should always do
To every person as you would
That they should do to you."

"But pa, did Horace Greeley think
That in some future day,
He'd want bail when he stands to try
His country to betray?"

* * * * *

The Senator could say no more—
So, turning quickly, said:
"It's nine o'clock, my little boy,
'Tis time you were in bed."

Coleman T. Robinson, a Wall-street broker, having amassed a splendid fortune and bought a palace at Brewster Station, Westchester Mr. Little, of Carmel, had promised his daughter of county, fell in love with a child, daughter of marriage, but was rejected. He pressed his suit upon the ambitious father, and was promised the paternal consent if he would win the bulk of his fortune to the child. Afterward Robinson took a duplicate of his real will to Little's house and destroyed it. Next day he went on a spree, was thrown from his carriage, and soon after lay on his death-bed. He sent for the child to nurse him, but her father would not consent except on condition of marriage. To this Robinson agreed, and the ceremony was performed. Within twenty-four hours he died. After the funeral the Littles installed themselves in the Robinson mansion; but soon gr relatives appeared with the real will and ousted the family, giving the child-widow only the piano, which her husband of a day had given her on his death-bed. A dispute was kept up until a settlement was effected—the Robinson relatives giving young Mrs. Robinson $500 a year.

General Jackson was not nominated by a National Convention. His candidacy was born of the enthusiasm and gratitude of the people. Grant resembles Jackson in this and in other respects. The Convention just in session in Philadelphia was a simple echo and reflection of the popular devotion to the man who saved our country. As Mr. Greeley's Republican friends study the magnificent manifestation in favor of Grant, they will perhaps anticipate the utter overthrow of their hopes, and realize that it would have been a much more fortunate investment if they had adhered to their original appreciation of his services and his character.

It turns out that Mr. Pierpont, of West Virginia, "resigned" his position as delegate in an involuntary manner. He was one of thirty delegates and alternates chosen to represent West Virginia in the Convention. There were seats for but ten. Mr. Pierpont, having intimated that he would not support the candidate of the Convention in certain contingencies, was left out in choosing the ten. He then went home, and took with him in his own person about one-tenth of the Greeley party in West Virginia.

Lloyd Aspinwall, of New York City has resigned as a member of the Greeley Central Committee, by letter, in which he says: "However highly the candidate of the Cincinnati Convention may be esteemed as a citizen, and may have justly earned an enviable reputation for benevolence and kind-heartedness, certainly the facility with which he swings round the circle and indulges in extraordinary somersaults, entitles him to be considered as 'first acrobat' in the political circus."

Gold in New York to-day, 114¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 87½c buying; buy selling.

Wheat in Liverpool 12s 4½@12s 6d; a further decline.

The steamer Ajax brought to port 530 tons of assorted merchandise.

The steamship John L. Stephens arrived at San Francisco to-day.

The A. M. Small is receiving wheat at the main-side wharf as rapidly as it can be brought down.

The Melancthon is discharging cargo at Flanders wharf.

The barkentine Melancthon reached port last evening from San Francisco. She brought 9,858 packages of assorted merchandise—about 700 tons.

The British ship Forward, from Hongkong, reached the dock at an early hour this morning. She brought 320 Chinese passengers and the following freight: 9,922 mats of rice; 1,053 pkgs sugar; 140 cs silk 5 cs opium; 197 pkgs chowchow. Following is her memoranda:

Left Hongkong on 26th April; had nothing but head winds for the first 35 days, in fact, the nearest approach to a fair wind was calms; for the first 17 days had good winds from the west and northwest quarters, at 11:30 p. m., June 18th, hove to, thick fog; at 1 a. m. on the 19th the fog cleared up, sighted the light and ran for it, at 7 a. m. taken in tow by steam tug Astoria, and arrived at Astoria at 10 a. m.; all well, having had no sickness on board during the voyage.

From 31st to 28th May, and from latitude 38° north and longitude 140° 45' east to lat 43° 26' north and lon 166° east, we sighted from three to six large whales every day—a rich harvest for a whaler to come across.

Sunday, May 23 lat 44° 23' north and lon 152° 15' east the water had every appearance of being shoaled, hove to and sounded with 75 fathoms but found no bottom. Although we got no soundings, still I am of opinion that a bank of soundings exists in this neighborhood, and no ships would do well to keep a good look out in case of shoal water about this position; great numbers of fur seals and some whales seen playing about.

The barks Edward James and Garibaldi were loading at Hongkong for this port when the Forward sailed, and will be due here in a few days.

The destination of the Alden Besse was changed from this port to San Francisco.

The first lot of new wheat brought into San Francisco sold last week for $1 40 per central. Holders evince a d se to meet the market.

PORTLAND, OREGON, August 1, 1871.

THE COMPANY IS NOW PREPARED TO EXTEND the pre-emption privilege of purchasing Railroad Lands in advance of the same being placed in market for all part ... conform to existing terms.

The applicant filing in this office a claim in the form prescribed, to-wit

Pre-emption. date, No ——

To the Land Agent of the European and Oregon Land Company

SIR: You are hereby notified that I have settled upon and improved (description of land) in the county of —— State of Oregon, containing —— acres, and that I claim a pre-emption right to purchase said land at the Company's valuation in accordance with the following resolution of the Directors of said Company, adopted at the twenty-sixth day of May, A. D. 1871, to the terms of which I hereby fully assent:

"Resolved, That the parties settling upon and improving any of the lands of the European and Oregon Land Company, before the same are opened for market, shall be entitled to the pre-emption privilege of purchase on the same terms as the Company would sell the land for without improvement, and also the subject to the same conditions of payment, as all other lands belonging to the Company, when brought into market, provided, such settlers shall file in the Land Office and Company, written application, giving notice of such settlement, and shall accept the privilege upon the condition that when the price of the land shall be fixed, as the same shall be set by the Company's Land Agent, through the Postoffice, or otherwise, as may be convenient, to the residence of the party claiming the pre-emption privilege, and if the land is not purchased by the said party within sixty days from the date of such notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person."

(Name of applicant.)

(Postoffice address.)

When the application is received, a certificate, signed by the Agent, obligating the Company to the terms, will be sent to the claimant in the following form:

PRE-EMPTION CERTIFICATE, NO. ——

This is to certify that —— of —— county, State of ——, has this day filed in this office a pre-emption claim in (description of premises), and is hereby entitled to the first privilege of purchasing said tract at the Company's valuation, which is to be made with due reference to the improvements thereon; and if the same shall be purchased as mentioned, in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company, adopted May 26, A. D. 1871.

When the price of the above-described land is fixed, the same will be sent to the party to whom this certificate is issued, and if the land is not purchased by the said party as the Director thereof within sixty days from the date of said notice, the Company will be at liberty to sell the land to any other person.

(Signed)

Land Agent of the E. & O. Land Co.

The lands will be appraised by a competent, disinterested party, after calling at their several present values, having a prospective price on the basis of similar lands in the vicinity, and when appraisement is made they will be sold in quantity not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres to one person, payable in five equal annual installments, with interest from date of contract, at ten per cent per annum, principal and interest payable in United States Legal Tender Notes. Warranty deeds given when United States Patent issues, upon payment in full.

Blank forms of application furnished upon request.

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

ADOPTED BY THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, ASSEMBLED AT PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 5, 1872.

The Republican Party of the United States assembled in National Convention, in the City of Philadelphia, on the fifth day of June, 1872, do hereby declare and publish the following as the principles which we hold, and the purposes we intend to carry out in the administration of the government:

1. During the recent years of the existence of the present party it has accepted with grateful courage the conditions of the time, has suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four millions of slaves, secured the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting a spirit unrivalled in the annals of party history, it has survived violent opposition, and calumnies scarcely paralleled in the history of politics, and now presents itself to the country organized and equipped for the work of administration, and confidently appeals for approval to the intelligence, patriotism and the love of liberty and justice which characterize the American people. Its opponents have been unable to allege the slightest failure to perform any promise it has made, or any trust it has undertaken. Calling to mind the condition of the country when intrusted to its hands, and in view of the fact that the responsibilities of power have been assumed in every case when the Government was subverted or imperilled, we claim that the preservation of the Government in its integrity, the defeat of every assault upon the National credit, the restoration of the Union, the triumph of liberty and equality before the law, the maintenance of the rights of the States, the growth of commerce, the development of the material interests of the country, the inauguration of specie payments, the reduction of the public debt, the increase of the wages of labor, and the general prosperity of the people have been the principal achievements of the Republican party, and justify the confidence that it will carry into the future the principles underlying these achievements.

2. We believe that the work of reform must be thorough and radical, and that the Republican party is the only party organization which can be entrusted with the control of the Government during the present critical period of our national affairs.

3. We believe that the public welfare requires the establishment and efficient maintenance throughout the Union by all constitutional and appropriate State and Federal legislation, of equal rights and privileges for all citizens of every race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

4. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right, and thereby liberated forces which will add greatly to the power and glory of the country. To this end we demand such legislation as will secure the enforcement of the letter and spirit of the recent constitutional amendments by the full power of the National Government.

5. The National Government seeks to maintain an honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere, and sympathizing with all peoples who strive for greater liberty.

6. Any system of civil service under which the subordinate positions of the Government can be considered as rewards for mere party zeal, is radically objectionable, and we demand such an administration of the system, by appropriate legislation, as will secure the best service, by the selection, for fitness, of those who may be appointed, and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public position, without practically creating a hereditary office.

7. We are opposed to further grants of public lands to railroads, and to the forfeiture by railroads of lands heretofore granted, and demand that the National domain be set apart for free settlement by the people.

8. The annual revenue, after paying current demands, should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and we favor specific legislation to secure such reduction within reasonable limits, believing that the best policy to diminish our burdens is to so improve our industries, develop our resources and facilities of production, and protect our labor, that we shall surely advance in wealth and prosperity. The national debt, contracted as it has been for the preservation of the Union for the benefit of all the people, should be paid as rapidly as practicable; all the moneys required for that purpose should be collected by taxes upon such articles as can best bear the burden without injury to our growing industries, and we favor such a tariff as will augment the revenue when necessary by the imposition of additional taxes upon the articles contributing most to the profits of those who are the especial favorites of unjust legislation. We hold that Congress has always had the power, and that it is its duty, to lay taxes, duties and imposts sufficient for the support of the Government, the maintenance of the public credit, and the proper development of the national industries and resources, and that the question of the repeal or reduction of any tax or duty must be determined by the light of these principles, and not by the desire of individuals or classes to make profit by their abrogation.

9. We hold that the Government of the United States, whose creation was the work of the people, has the power to improve its great highways. We favor such appropriations as may be necessary for the speedy completion of such works as have been commenced, or may hereafter be undertaken by the general government for the benefit of commerce, and we oppose any diversion of the funds of the National Treasury, or of the credit of the Government, from the great highways of commerce to any local or State object.

10. We believe that the public credit, which is the property of the nation, should be guarded with the most sacred care. All the laws passed during the war for the issue of paper money were expressly declared to be subject to the will of Congress, and in perfect harmony with this principle we favor the gradual return to specie payments, in order that the great evils of fluctuating currency may be avoided. We are opposed to any further issue of legal tender notes, and favor the return, as rapidly as can be safely done, to a currency absolutely convertible into coin.
